

Structured and Unstructured Learning Activities

Please see below for some examples of Structured and Unstructured Learning Activities areas:

Structured Learning Activities

Categories of activities such as:

- Courses conducted by or under the auspices of recognized professional bodies.
- Studies undertaken for the purpose of preparing for a post-qualification course.
- Studies undertaken after qualification with a view to preparing the candidate for a post graduate degree.
- Suitable courses conducted by a university or an academic institution.
- Relevant courses conducted by a university or a firm in public practice or by a business organization.
- Publishing of technical articles, papers or books.
- Working as a lecturer, instructor or discussion leader on a structured course.
- Participation in seminars, events, conferences, briefing sessions or discussion groups with a minimum of 5 hours, where technical materials are presented.
- Online learning or e-learning.

Unstructured Learning Activities

Categories of activities such as:

- Reading of technical, professional, financial, or business literature.
- Use of audio tapes, video tapes, correspondence course, e-conference etc
- Participation at seminars, events, conferences, meetings, briefing sessions or discussion groups of less than or equal to 4 hours, where no technical material is prepared by the member.
- Service as a member of a technical committee of a professional body or individual firm (where no technical material is prepared by the member for review).